

GROWING INTO OUR PROMISE

Pastor Steven L. Shelley · March 5, 2006

I just had a vision. And in that vision I saw a child trying on a coat that was too big for him. I saw this little boy looking up at his mommy with this sad look because the coat was not yet a fit. And as I saw that scene just quickly go by several times, I realized that perhaps years or seasons were going by and that little boy's trying on that coat and trying on that coat. And even though in the sequence, the quick sequence of pictures I could see that it was getting closer and closer to fitting. Hallelujah.

One of these days that little boy's going to put on that coat and it's going to be a perfect fit. He can't hardly wait to get it on. Hallelujah. I believe that's a Word from the Lord for us, that we're growing into our promise. We're growing into that new mantle of favor that the Lord wants us to wear. Hallelujah. The new robes of His righteousness that He wants to dress us in. And I believe we're growing into that this morning. Hallelujah.
