

GOD'S DATELINE

Pastor Steven L. Shelley · January 5, 2006

I just saw a vision in the Spirit. I saw a globe, bigger than one that would sit on a stand in your office like mine, or on the desk or something. And I could see the continents. I could see the oceans. But I saw a line going down the globe, and the line was in red. And it was a little bit wide, and a little bit, almost distracting.

I could see in the Spirit that this line represented the international date-line. And there is such a line that's on the globe, and in reality it's like a border almost. And when you're traveling and you cross that line, as soon as you cross that line, you have either stepped into a new day or, as some of us have learned, you go back and relive a day. If you're coming back this way to the west, you actually live a portion of the day over again.

And in the Spirit I could see that some were moving in a direction toward the international date line that would take them into a new day. And I saw others who were on the other side of that international date-line, and they were moving toward the West. And they were going to relive a portion of a day they'd already lived. Do you understand that part anyway?

And yet I know in my spirit that when this thing is over soon, we're all going to be at the same place. Some who have stepped into a new day, and some who have stepped back and kind of relived a portion of the day over spiritually. And yet soon when God does what He's promised, we're all going to be living in the same day.

Those who are trying to relive the past, and those who are trying to step over too quickly into another thing, another day, and yet God's going to come with a great balance and cause us to stand spiritually in the same day.
